March, 1952 - Page 7.. For the past half century, Parker Brothers'™ die-cast airplanes, bicycles, artillery, automobiles and related products have been the icons of our pastime! Bill Parker and Edward Chiverton, a company founded in 1889 by William Parker in Trenton, N.J., began making goods and accessories. The partnership was later joined by Charles E. Page and Richard B. Parker in 1914. (It was later renamed Parker Brothers Game Company.) Parker was known as "the father of the modern board game" and his company had a monopoly on board game manufacturing in the 1910s and 1920s. The company became The Parker Brothers Company in 1929, when it acquired the Mackie Company. Parker's hobby led to creation of the game Monopoly which took the world by storm. The company also made the trivia game, Trivial Pursuit. In 2003, the company sold its game and consumer-products operations, and Parker continues to publish and consult on games through his company, Parker Games. The company has 13 printing presses located at six sites across the country, and in 2003, the company had sales of $2.6 billion. bob parker brother-in-law, pat jones... From the toys of childhood to the games of adulthood, Parker Brothers Game Company has turned out popular family games of the board, card and ball variety in every subject. For decades Parker Brothers Game Company has been recognized as one of the pioneer board game companies. Moonshiners of the mountains.. In the last years of the 19th century, Parker Brothers had a monopoly on manufacturing games, not only in this country but in virtually the whole world. During its heyday, Parker moved into the retail side of the business, as well as the publishing side, initially with The Reader's Digest and then with The Saturday Evening Post, when it acquired the magazine in 1938. Howard D. Poole, one of Parker's partners, learned how to build a mold and offered the company die-cast cars for Christmas of 1895. At that time, Parker Brothers had a shoe repair shop, and the idea of making a motorized iron horse was born. The first car the company produced was a $50 electric runabout, which sold for $4, plus freight charges. The electric motor
